A couple of months ago Dylan Gill aka @BlowdrillI wrote https://tinyurl.com/ya736927 (emphasis added is mine): "They don't have to put a chip in your head; they just have to feed you a steady diet of extremist content until your worldview becomes a feedback loop of anger and resentment. This is how the "lone wolf" is made. [...] So, where is the accountability?"

Where, indeed.

I should note that apparently, per reports, Dylan is himself on a steady diet of "extremist content" concerning us, from Nora Sova Crest Ames and others - that he has accepted without question. If taken as a given that the reports are accurate, then Dylan's question "Where is the accountability?" gets the same response.

Where, indeed.

I contacted Dylan in December 2024, he responded in private email, to which I said the following about Dana etc. (slight editing):

I saw you today in Dana's chat of her Process video, and I wanted to clarify/apologize for my role in Dana going off into Dylan the honeypot land.

I simply had told her, because you were I believe connected into the Karen/Janis/ etc crowd, that it COULD be that you were being sent in on her, and that once we got on her lines it is a certainty that it will happen. I said I don't know this for sure but it is just something you have to keep an eye on. Next thing I know she's off to the races on calling you a honeypot. :-(

I tried multiple times to tell her that it isn't a given, but she dismissed it.

So, I am sorry for my role in that, such as it was.

As to when she told me about you offering the rv, we were talking on the phone every day then, and I asked her for the contact information and my friend Loren Spethman would get in touch, and I asked her to contact you and give her our email.

I came to the conclusion that she never did either, even though she told me she would. Is that correct?

Dylan's answer to that last question was affirmative.

So Dana completely blocked that line for Loren and Mike and I, and to this day probably thought she got away with it and that I missed it. Well, today it was now the correct time to let her and whoever know that was not the case.

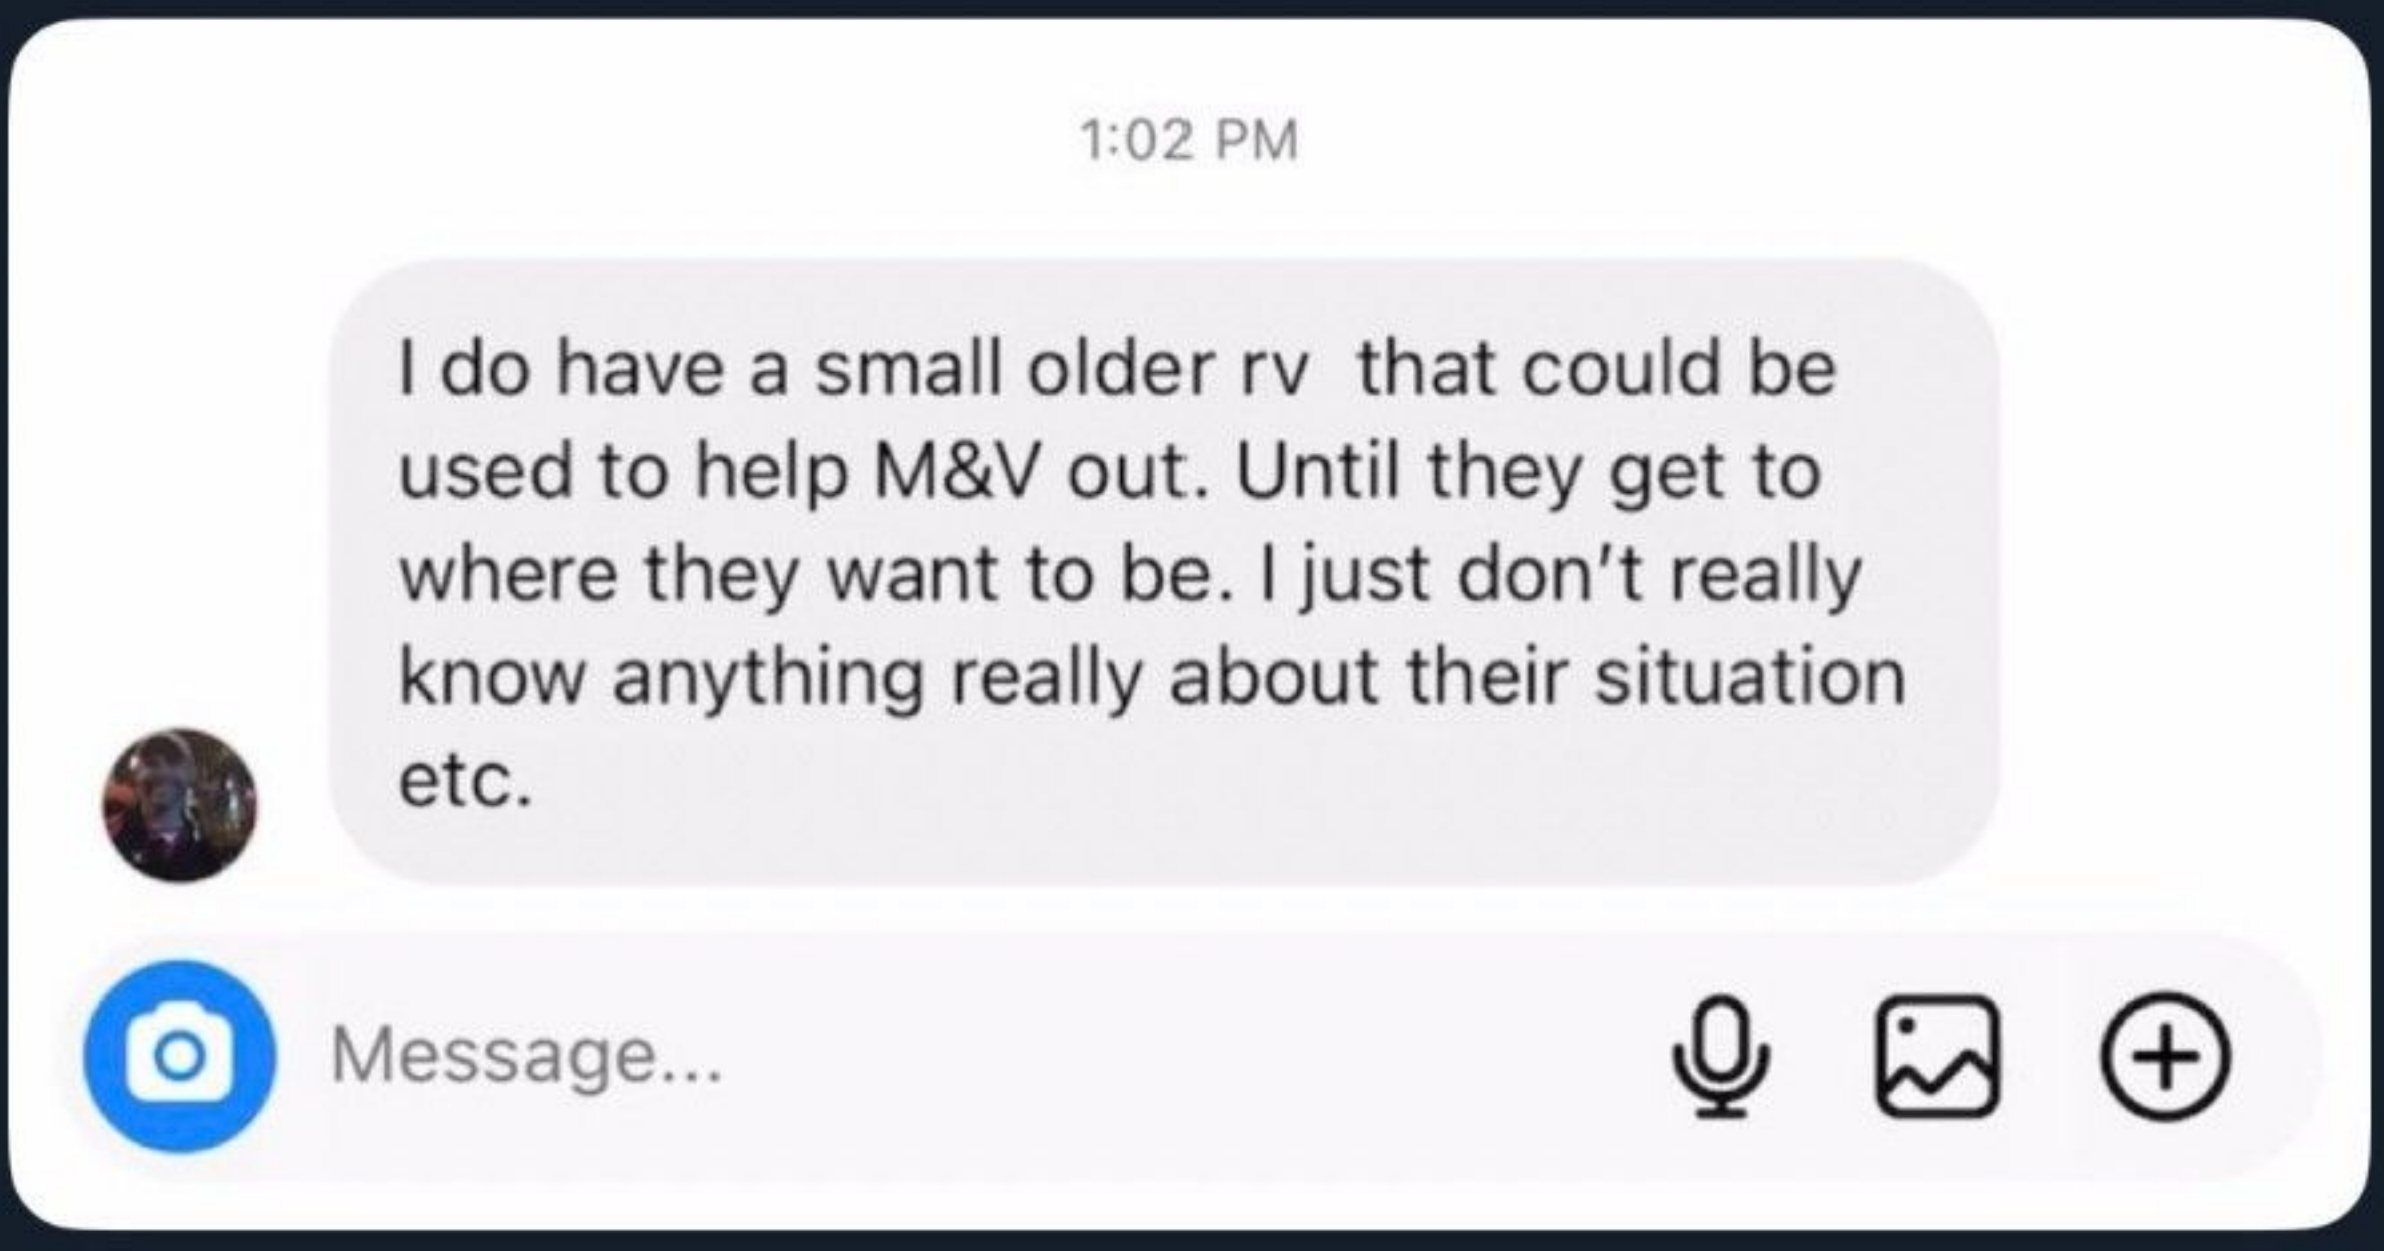
& today an offer for an RV.
The McClaughrys are aware of this entire conversation.
So, 🍯: say you don't know, then Rinder says Mike is crazy, then you might've grown up around them, then you're gonna call someone else, ask me to call you & now offer an RV but...you don't know?



1:02 PM
I do have a small older rv that could be used to help M&V out. Until they get to where they want to be. I just don't really know anything really about their situation etc.

Anyone who's paid attention to any of this for 5 seconds is well aware of @zerodarktony_og & I's situation with the "ex"-Scientology community & I've been very vocal about the McClaughrys since I found out.
Sorry bro, the math ain't mathin' & I may be a hillbilly but I'm not dumb

I talked to chuck Beatty and mentioned I have a trailer they could use as a shelter. He said he would reach out to them. He also mentioned that they might not be in a place to accept help, which is hard to hear as we all deserve compassion and understanding. I'm not in a position to give cash. I know what being homeless is and it's not something for the elderly. I'll stop bothering you and appreciate your time.

The offer to help Mike and Virginia is still open. I have a 25' fithwheel rv that works and is a place to get them out of the cold. Please let me know either way. Thanks

Ask Grok to explain this post

And in regards to that post about my “extremist logo”:

Blatant lies in the comment section.

Literally just blatant lies, as the McClaughrys said the person who had the trailer had donated to their GoFundMe and “knew how to contact them” so why was a message being relayed to me?

Help needed immediately for Mike and Virginia

Loren Spethman for Mike McClaughry

Mike and Virginia need our help. Virginia became ill and can't stay in her vehicle ... at least until she becomes well once again. The exposure to sub-freezing weather at night to the now routine rain has forced them into a motel. They don't have money for motel stays beyond a very short time which is up and Virginia is getting better, however, fears that if she has to go back to living in her vehicle will leave her vulnerable to further sickness.

As of now, they don't have money to buy food, gas or anything due to this inability to stay in their car. The money is gone and nowhere near the first of the month when
